Disclaimer:

The organizers point out that the offered event takes place in a remote region of the Himalayas and in such regions, due to technical or logistical difficulties, only very restricted rescue and/or medical treatment possibilities can be given, so that even minor injuries or incidents can have serious consequences.

The journey includes in part not well developed mountain roads, with high (injury) risk (e.g. caused by potholes). Due to the particularly high altitude, it is furthermore a precondition that you are of an appropriate, healthy constitution with a readiness to take evaluated risks, as well as having a considerable degree of personal responsibility and caution. To all relevant questions, particularly to any ambiguity, we respectively ask you to contact the Kriya Yoga Centre in Vienna. To be a part of this event (including Trek) is done entirely at the participants own risk and responsibility. Neither the organizers nor assistants can be made liable. Any Liability accepted by the event organizers or assistants – except in the case of willful misconduct or gross negligence – is hereby expressly excluded. In case of any reason either by natural calamities, road blockage, health sickness or political instability of the days in trek/tour are extended then there will be an additional charge for each additional day per person of approx. 4000-5000 Rupees = ca. 55-70 Euro.
