Swami Vairagyananda Giri drew inspiration from Sri Paramahansa Prajnanananda and took up the monastic life in 2004. In 2010, he embarked on his first international journey, traveling from India to the USA to share the teachings of Kriya Yoga meditation. Ordained as a monk in 2012, he now travels extensively to the USA, Canada, and India, offering various Kriya programs. He is currently based at the Temple of Harmony, Kriya Vedanta Gurukulam, in Joliet, Illinois.

Swami Tapasyananda Giri is a monk in the lineage of Kriya Yoga masters Paramahansa Hariharananda and Paramahansa Prajnanananda. He leads Kriya initiation programs at Mother Center in Homestead Ashram, Florida.
